This meeting was effectively canceled: because of illness, injury and travel, only two people could make it, Haven Colgate and Sashidar Nivarthi. Jean Hamerman managed to swing in just home from her trip, and Barb Prisament stopped by after her appearance at the concurrent Board of Trustees meeting.

Sashi and Haven discussed developing a database to manage contacts, in order to keep track of who is interested in which sustainability topics. Some people are eager composters; others are eager to work on the woods project, etc., and we'd like to be able to segment our lists and do tailored outreach. Sashi is working on collapsing all of our data and will speak to Raf about using the Village server as the backend.

Barb agreed to float a cautionary flyer about straws with restaurants and delis, once we finish producing one for Sakura.
